Dear Fellow Members of the MassBay Community,

Here is today's COVID-19 update. Please remember this is an ever-changing situation, and it is very important to check your MassBay email account daily.

Following Governor Baker's announcement of earlier today, beginning at noon tomorrow, Tuesday, March 24th, all campus buildings will be inaccessible to students. The Wellesley campus will be only open to essential staff, with a few rare exceptions.

Remote Learning

Please check your email and/or reach out to your professors if you have questions about your courses. Courses have transitioned to a remote format or are continuing in an online format. Student services have also moved online to continue to connect you while you are off-campus. Please review the resources here:

For Students - <https://www.massbay.edu/remote-student>

For Faculty - <https://www.massbay.edu/remote-faculty>

Shuttle Service

Shuttle service will end tomorrow, Tuesday, March 24 at 2PM.

We will continue to update you daily by 4pm, but you can always find the latest information on our website MassBay.edu/coronavirus. Please remember, if you are sick do not come to campus, but report this to Public Safety at 781-239-2222. If you have any questions, please email your dean or supervisor.
